About the Gundaroo Music Festival

The annual event is an all ages, all music lover's festival designed to use music to bring people together from around the region - to enjoy 12 hours of live, professionally staged music – showcasing talent from around the country as well as supporting local and emerging talent.

For those of you that have lived in the village for a while - you also know there is more than just music to the Gundaroo Music Festival – it also raises money to help fund those people dealing with Motor Neurone Disease and provide support to the many people suffering from its effects. The Festival started as an idea the much-loved local resident Scott Windsor had.

Since his dream became a reality back in 2013 – more than $100,000 has been raised – proving that it is a festival that truly gives back. Scott sadly lost his battle with MND – but his legacy will live forever through music, family and fun at the festival.

This year we want to make sure everyone feels ownership of this years event – and the best way to do that is to join as a GMF Member.
